"I think they should be embarrassed," she told Tucker Carlson of the decision to give Murphy the gig. "But beyond that, I think the people who were involved with [the performance] I think they need to go to jail. I think they should be thrown in jail and whipped — just not with cable ties, I'll give you that, right? — but we'll use barbed wire." Kelly added, "They're trying to say it was all in good fun, but if they're saying that in good fun, you don't put somebody up there who is going to be taken seriously, because anybody who is going to be taken seriously has to take themselves seriously." The comedian — widely considered one of the worst actors in television history — was introduced on the show as a "resident expert" on politics. He claimed that he was there because he wanted to "clear the air" before Election Day. "I was born to do this," he said at one point. "This is the best job I've ever had. I'm a Democrat, but I'm a patriot. I'm a lover of America. I'm a fan of the president and the American people. I'm his biggest fan.◆ 09e8f5149f
