Sublime Text 2 - PHP Refactoring is an extension and built in search plugin that enables you to do rapid development for PHP code. It supports code refactoring (renaming variables, classes and functions, method renaming, and much more), code generation (to "stub" for missing PHP extensions, methods, constants, etc.), code completion, and code hints. The built-in search functionality enables you to search for code snippets, keywords, or files within a project. You can also use the PHP Refactoring as an extension. The extension works like the built-in search functionality plus you can apply custom refactorings. Install instructions: Add the package from the Package Control repository by selecting Install Package > Select 'Sublime Text 2 - PHP Refactoring' > Install package. You can install the extension from the command line by typing the following: $ composer require rasvh/sublime-text-refactor Note: PHP Refactoring does not work with Sublime Text 3. The Kupo bookmark extension for Opera uses the X-Kupo HTTP header to identify Kupo files, and Kupo-specific markup to generate a tab or panel for each item, as well as the ability to link to external URLs. What's New In?

Getting a text-to-speech software on Windows is no rocket science. But not all applications are equal and this one is not. There is not one application that can make text-to-speech the best solution on Windows. The best solution depends on many factors. A lot of this time is wasted comparing a lot of applications, that are mostly hard to install, have compatibility issues or work different than you would expect. On top of that not all applications can talk about themselves, i.e. give you the necessary information about their features. To prevent this waste of time and money, we are proud to present our new software: Anthromorphic Scribe. The creator of this application used the TTS technology to create a software that is more easy to use and reliable. No compatibility issues, no unnecessary setup, no unnecessary limitations and no unuseful configuration. If you want a text-to-speech solution that is easy and reliable, Anthromorphic Scribe is your solution. Its approach is simple. You have the possibility to import your own audio files into the application or record a new one using your microphone. The application uses a special language called XML to make your speech file compatible with Sphinx 4.

Another advantage of Anthromorphic Scribe is that it can read different text files (HTML, TXT, CNTL,...) and not only MP3, WAV and OGG files.

Anthromorphic Scribe Features: Compatible with Windows and all current operating systems Easy to use and understand for users of all experience levels Easy to install and setup Available in many languages Flexible and easy to configure Includes many language variants Lets you use your own voice An easy to handle syntax Mono (or stereo) or Stereo playback supported No additional files or library dependencies Write and read your own XML files Does not use large files (fast loading,...) Does not require special audio files or libraries Is compatible with Sphinx 4 Very fast to handle large text files Is easy to backup

Note: We work on a new version of Anthromorphic Scribe and currently have a free demo version available, that enables you to use all functions, but does not include the text-to-speech. If you want to be able to talk about yourself, use your own voice or read complex text files, please subscribe to our website and/or download the full version of Anthromorphic Scribe. We want you to be able to use this software and are constantly working on a new version. In case you have ideas or requests, please contact us. We will be happy to help you out. You can reach us via mail or our support forum. Other useful software for your speech production:
