Imagine a world where people are in charge of controlling the Elements of Power - a race of warriors who are each tasked with maintaining the balance between the Elements of Light, Dark, and Neutral. This is the story of a young man who, just like the others, is given the Great Element of Light, and his quest to understand this fantastical world he has been given. System Requirements: Windows 7, Windows 8, Windows 10 Processor: Intel Core i7-870 or AMD Phenom II X3 720 Memory: 8GB RAM Graphics: NVIDIA GeForce GTX 760 with 2GB VRAM Storage: 2GB available space Recommended: Windows 7, Windows 8, Windows 10 Processor: AMD A10-5800k Memory: 8GB RAM Graphics: NVIDIA GeForce GTX 1080 with 3GB VRAM Storage: 2GB available space I want to sell the indie game Abandoned Eternity - Unfinished 2nd version. I have never finished it completely and have never uploaded a complete version. It is an atmospheric dark RPG set in a post-apocalyptic world. The game is aimed at people who like classic RPG's like "Champions of Might and Magic" or "Planescape Torment" but with their own style. I have a few parts of the intro and engine from the first version still in the game (its unfinished). I also finished a new dark fantasy themed intro and a new dark fantasy coloured map. I had to make the graphics look realistic with not-so-advanced 3D programs to make it possible for me to complete the game. I do hope you enjoy the game after you have completed it. Best regards, Maxime A special thank you to my patrons! Abandoned Eternity - Unfinished 2nd version is a dark, atmospheric RPG made in Unity. It is set in a grim post-apocalyptic world. You play a young man who must find out who is going to be responsible for his fate. The game is challenging, with combat focused around a weapon which the player has to develop and use to kill his enemies. The game is not aimed at the average RPG gamer, but at people who like classic RPG's like "Champions of Might and Magic" or "Planescape Torment" but with their own style. I have been working on this game for over one year and I decided to make it free! If you want to support my

Infection: Humanity's Last Gasp is a three-part strategy game with a unique, gripping narrative - inspired by John Gibson's classic board game. You are the Plague Control Specialist and your first challenge: cure the 14 viruses featured in this official expansion. Infection: Humanity's Last Gasp is a combination of board game, card game, and real time strategy, and is the epitome of an all-in-one game. The game features 14 challenging viruses to cure, a unique and engaging narrative, and multiple games modes, and is suited for all ages. The game will be distributed in retail stores and is currently available for pre-order from Amazon. What's New in This Version: Bug fixes Developer Notes: - The game has been further developed based on the recommendations from the suggestions made on Steam Workshop. We have updated the game to work properly on all platforms. - The project page was updated and the files have been uploaded to our webshop for pre-order. Please note that the files have not been thoroughly tested and we can not guarantee that everything will work 100% correctly. - We have added an optional "No-Kill" mode, where you can make the casualties as high as you like. This is optional but includes an interesting strategy to the main game as you try to beat the highest possible Death Toll at the end. - Most of the files have been updated. They are now packed in a dedicated folder to make the game able to be pre-ordered on Amazon's website. - In the Main Menu, the sound has been updated to match the icon better (as of Dec 2017). - The files have been uploaded to our webshop for pre-order. -Shrouded in mystery, Gable casts herself down to the wrecked countryside of the Deep Wilds-Wrecked ruins lie hidden within the mists, down to a place once called 'The Snakes'. There in the depths of the Deep Wilds, adventurers are challenged to face their fears and live. The Longest Flight The closest resemblance to the 'downward' climb is the 'Downward' climb in LEGO® Creator. In Down Ward, the concept is fleshed out with the illusion of movement. This illusion is possible thanks to the game's unique gravity system.Gable struggles to keep herself moving as she fights to gain enough lift to reach the bottom of the Deep Wilds. Gable can control the climb by tilting the phone to control her forward speed and tilting in the opposite direction to increase her climb.As she gains lift, Gable can maneuver around the environment, but when she loses lift, it's game over. This is different from other games with gravity systems, which typically let you slide into anything in your way.Down Ward's environment is fully destructible. It is not required to avoid obstacles, but if you want to, you will need to. Once you reach the bottom, Gable will be able to sprint forward at a speed that will be limited by obstacles.Players will be required to use the landscape to their advantage to discover secrets and hidden items, as they'll have limited time while remaining vigilant for enemies and obstacles.Down Ward also includes "interactivity modes" designed to get players "lost in the game". This will be explained in a future dev blog. Blog and Feedback Welcome and thanks for the kind words, and we're glad you're enjoying the game. If you would like to share your feedback, opinions, or thoughts on Down Ward, you are welcome to do so on our social media pages. There you'll find a Telegram group to chat with the developer, where you can ask questions and find answers. What's new:

Plan is based on the need of all homeowners in the community to obtain water from the community well for drinking, cooking and other domestic uses. To earn the Master Club designation, new wells must be installed starting with annual membership in the Club. Active residents must also continue to maintain their existing wells. Resident volunteer pumpers are on-call daily to haul water for these residences. As the only community in the United States to have been awarded the prestigious Noble Peace Prize by the International Peace Bureau in 2015, Pine Mountain has been outspoken in its condemnation of the Kinder Morgan Pipeline that runs through the property in Burnaby, BC. See for a full story on the Kinder Morgan controversy at The Wilderness and Trails Association Pine Mountain is a member of The Wilderness and Trails Association (WATA), a non-profit organization established in 1981 to uphold the laws and protect the forests and public lands that provide the opportunities for physical activity, spiritual refreshment, and both wellness and recreation to all Canadians. The Association champions responsible stewardship and protection of nature and healthy lands and communities through grassroots community action as a key priority and a way of life. INDIANAPOLIS - What started as an overnight stay for two San Diego families has turned into a three-day campout in Indianapolis. The Duke family and the Harbaugh family were stranded by snowstorms in early February. "While stuck in an Indianapolis airport, two dads met at their gate and decided to stay together and stay stuck," the Duke family said on a GoFundMe page. The Duke family said the campout began Saturday at 4:00 p.m. in Indy, when Gary Duke, Alan Duke and Shaun Duke, joined Gary's father, Gary Jr., and Shaun's brother, Josh, along with a group of friends who were also stranded. They slept in the maintenance vault next to the Southwest Terminal. After three days, the Dukes finally got their home back, but the Harbaugh family is still stranded without a home. "

Schmea Kudin Schmea Kudin (Шлам Кудин Смялахъ: Кудин Смялахъ) was a Musaviy (military general) of Kievan Rus' in the late 12th and early 13th centuries. Schmea Kudin was the son of Uspensky Kudin, the governor of Izyaslav. The exact date of his birth is unknown, but probably in the late 12th century, as he became one of the first knights elected in the spot of Uspensky Kudin, who as his successor was elected prince of Izyaslav in 1212. In 1216, Schmea Kudin and his sister Rybna were among the leaders, and most of the time he actually is the "King of the Rus", of the army at the Rostov-on-Don-gate in pursuit of the Seljuk emirate of Arran, which was being attacked by the army of the Knights Templar. At the battle of Arran in 1220, he fought against them, and in that battle the Mongols were defeated by the army led by Genghis Khan
