(CNS): The Ministry of Tourism is encouraging people to set up public toiletries collections to raise awareness of the lack of modern sanitation facilities in Caribbean countries. Acting Minister of Tourism, Mr E. D. J. Rodney has noted that although much has been done to improve tourism infrastructure and services, there is still a need to improve the sanitary provisions and there are relatively few modern sanitation facilities in some of the Caribbean and Central American countries. In an announcement on Thursday (October 5) by the Ministry, Mr Rodney noted that the sanitary facilities in these countries generally cater for the fewer number of visitors and this creates a sanitation problem in the region. He noted that these lack of public toilets in an array of nations including Aruba, the Cayman Islands, Dominica, the Dutch Antilles, Guadeloupe, Guatemala, the Honduras, Martinique, Puerto Rico, Saint Lucia, the Virgin Islands and the British Virgin Islands. “The lack of public toilets, which is often the case in the Caribbean and Central American countries, poses a major problem and becomes a breeding ground for diseases and increased risk of contracting diseases such as cholera and typhoid,” said Mr Rodney. “It is the government’s intention to develop a strategy aimed at improving the sanitation facilities and services in the Caribbean and Central American countries and also focus on updating the information shared to the public.” Mr Rodney added that the ministry of tourism is also looking to engage the private sector and the insurance industry in establishing public toilets or upgrading existing facilities. “We are also inviting other governments and stakeholders to collaborate with us so that we can support and facilitate the setting up of these infrastructure programmes,” said Mr Rodney. The Ministry of Tourism is inviting the private sector and insurance companies to come on board to support and engage in improving sanitation facilities in some of the Caribbean and Central American countries. Mr Rodney also said that the ministry is also aware of the challenges that the lack of adequate sanitation poses to the tourism industry.
