This August, 'Disney On Ice: Live On Ice!' will see two Ducktales characters join forces with Duckworth! Although I've been lucky enough to see the show, I haven't been lucky enough to see the original Duck and Scrooge characters yet. This has me looking forward to visiting the show more than ever before. Who am I talking about? Scrooge McDuck and the group known as 'Ducktales.' Here's a little info for those of you who don't know the story! The ducklings - Huey, Dewey and Louie - find themselves on a quest to find Scrooge McDuck and his gold after their timeworn boat, the 'Nautilus,' is captured by a snarky sea captain named Captain Crates. Huey, Dewey, and Louie had previously traveled the oceans of the world as part of the Three Musketeers. They are joined by the brilliant farmyard animal genius, Gyro Gearloose. Together, they set sail for fortune and glory, but face treacherous waters and awesome challenges as they journey to free their dad from the clutches of pirates. Here's the best part! The show will feature a bunch of the funny Ducktales characters right along with the original characters! And bonus! The show is going to be live! A live show? Yes. The original characters were built with this in mind. There will be boa constrictors coming through the stage. You can hear the crocodile, you can see the elephant, etc. It's awesome! We'll be there... This will be Walt and Vince's 20th Anniversary Show, in addition to being part of the 20th Anniversary Celebration. We can'

The gaming industry has numerous casinos and other entities that engage in the wagering of money, time, or other valuable assets and indicia of ownership on the outcome of a game. Casinos include brick and mortar establishments (e.g., casinos, card rooms, and the like) and online or web-based locations. These casinos may contain gaming devices such as video slots, card tables, roulette, blackjack, and the like. These casinos typically provide gaming devices and platforms where players can play the games in exchange for money, credits, or other assets. The casinos and gaming devices are generally operated by a gaming authority that tracks and enforces gaming activity in a gaming device. For example, the gaming authority may collect a portion of each wager made at a gaming device. The gaming authority also pays out a portion of each wager to players. The gaming authority may further credit a player with an award based on a wager or game outcome. A gaming authority may make and enforce rules to govern player and casino activity on a gaming device. For example, a gaming authority may set a number of credits that a player must wager to qualify for an award. A gaming authority may further set a rate of return on a wager based on one or more outcomes of a game. Based on these rules, the gaming authority may award a player with an award for each wager the player makes. The gaming authority may also award a player with an award for participation in a bonus game on the gaming device. As described above, most gaming devices provide 6d1f23a050
