NEW YORK - The Martin Luther King Jr. Day of Service is a great excuse for people to do some good deeds — but even if you don't live in the city on Jan. 20, you can still get involved. Several sanitation workers and community organizations, including the MTA, are hosting a Martin Luther King Jr. Day of Service on Jan. 18 and 19. The MTA will honor members of its sanitation workforce who have passed away with a moment of silence at 2:47 p.m. on Saturday. Other projects will include participating in the National Night Out at the Brookville Ridge Library, then helping rebuild area homes, roads and schools with the Citi Habitat for Humanity, Sysco Mobile Meals, New York United, Long Island Construction Battalion and other groups. "This holiday encourages us to honor the good deeds and the important work of our community heroes like Martin Luther King Jr. who devoted his life to justice and equality for all," said MTA Chairman Joe Lhota. Additional MTA tasks include painting and cleaning of statuary at a dozen stations and bus garages. The full 6d1f23a050
