

Aside from the 108 CELEVs partnered to DepEd Divisions through the Community Passion Projects held, the DepEd Headquarters (via the DepEd Local Directorate) passed the DOS-CHED designation to 103 Elementary Schools, bringing the number of CELEV structures to over 500 with another 20 CELEVs planned to be passed to high schools by this year. Learned from the lessons of Pangasinan, the National Schools Division of DepEd-National Capital Region-recorded a celebratory CELEV of 43,266 elementary students for the first Basic Education Law (BEL) celebration of its magnitude through the Community Passion Project. Learned from the lessons of Pangasinan, the National Schools Division of DepEd-National Capital Region-recorded a CELEV of 43,266 elementary students for the first Basic Education Law (BEL) celebration of its magnitude through the Community Passion Project. As part of the celebration, a program for home economics students was held at the Plenary Hall of the Nueva Ecija Agriculture School last March 14, 2018, with a total of fifty (50) participants and 3 facilitators. On World Home Economics Day, there are out-reach activities to be done to promote the importance of home economics as an important vehicle that can help students achieve their dream as productive Filipinos. In the Philippines, home economics, which has been a subject in the school curriculum since the 1960s, is one of the most effective pathways for helping students develop educational and life skills. In 2013, the Statistic Association of the Philippines in cooperation with the Department of Education (DepEd) conducted a study which showed that home economics students showed greater academic achievement and career readiness over their non-home economics counterparts.
