Justice (TBCJ) is the executive branch agency of Texas that is responsible for carrying out the penal system in Texas. It was established in 1979 by the Texas legislature. The TBCJ consists of five members and is governed by the provisions of Section 2.091 of the Government Code. Its powers include: The administration and enforcement of the criminal justice system Appointment of district attorneys and criminal district attorneys The execution of sentences for crimes Appointment of the director of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice and all other Texas Department of Criminal Justice employees The execution of death sentences The supervision of parole The promulgation of rules and regulations for the internal operation of the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, including the prison system. The TBCJ was created in response to the creation of the Texas Board of Corrections (now the Texas Department of Criminal Justice) and the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles (now the Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles) by the 70th Texas Legislature. The current members of the TBCJ are:
Chairman: Cristina Anguiano-Montemayor Vice
